

Exclusive Buyer's Representation Agreement

As a result of the "Realtor lawsuit" -- thanks mainstream media... as of August 17th, 2024, an exclusive buyer's representation agreement is required to be signed for a buyer's agent to show you homes and represent you in a real estate transaction. This agreement outlines our mutual responsibilities and ensures that you receive dedicated and professional service throughout your home-buying journey. We'll go over it step by step during our buyer's consultation to ensure you understand your rights and responsibilities.

As your buyer's agent, I will...

...negotiate for you

I'll secure the best price and terms, saving you money and stress.

...guide you through the market

With deep knowledge of local trends, I'll identify the right opportunities and neighborhoods for you.

...scout off-market properties

I'll scout off-market properties, giving you a competitive edge in finding your dream home.

...make it a seamless process

I'll handle every detail, from scheduling to paperwork, ensuring a smooth, hassle-free experience.
